Gregory Takes Appeals From Wilcox Incident

Gregory, local manager of Mississippi Power Company, was fined two fines totalling $35 by Justice of the Peace Rhodes at the conclusion of a four-hour hearing Monday on complaints filed by Delmer Waveland electrical contractor, which had attracted great local interest, and from an argument April between the two men over electrical connections at a new service station in Waveland.

Gregory, who his attorneys were to bring out in question, was fined $10 for disturbing the peace and $25 for assault with intent, and he was held for action on next grand jury on $500 bond.

power firm executive was not guilty and was heard after his counsel, Dan Sell Jr. and Sam L. Favre, made their motion for a jury. The constable started to pick up the man from the courtroom. They maintained present had an interest in the case and would not be likely to appear.

Gregory, who took the witness stand, told how he went to the building on Coleman Waveland, about 1:30 p.m. Sunday and considered riding Gregory's contention that he was moved six inches from the building in order to make various company, fire, electrical and code requirements.

Gregory related his experience of training in electricity at Woodstock, Ill., high school and how he was in charge of electrical crew for installation of maintenance work at a new building in Hancock County in 1946. He said he was released from the service and had never received or requested a release from regulations from power. "If they have

Ask PSC for May Date in Water Case

A hearing before the Mississippi Public Service Commission on the Clermont Harbor Waterworks application for a rate hike is being sought for May 14 or 15, Rep. Walter Phillips, counsel for Ray Planckard, owner of the utility, said today.

He disclosed he had written Wednesday to the commission asking for that date which is understood to be agreeable both to the petitioner and a group of Clermont Harbor water consumers who are opposed to the increase.

The consumers are to have a general meeting at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 9, at the Clermont Harbor School to complete plans for their opposition, according to J. P. Rousseau.

Phillips told The Echo that he has been unable to learn from the PSC if the opponents of the application have filed a formal protest to entitle them to appear at the hearing. He said the proper papers should have been filed April 7 when the case was docketed.

Phillips also said that the new water tank being installed in Clermont Harbor is part of the improvements programmed by Planckard in seeking the increased rates.

Commuters Score Part Win In ICC Decision

At least a partial victory was scored by Hancock and Harrison County commuters to New Orleans when the Interstate Commerce Commission Friday ordered the Louisville and Nashville Railroad to continue commuter service between New Orleans and Pass Christian, for at least one more year.

The railroad petitioned the ICC last fall for permission to discontinue operation of commuter trains 9 and 12 between New Orleans and Ocean Springs.

A hearing was scheduled by the ICC in response to protest by commuters against the discontinuation. New Orleans attorney Rudolph O. Vorbusch of Waveland, president and general counsel of the protest group, Gulf Coast Association, said, "The decision is a victory for us and for people of the entire area."

Vorbusch estimated that from 4,000 to 5,000 passengers use the service between New Orleans and Pass Christian each year. In the December protest before the ICC he claimed that discontinuation of the trains would mean a crippling economic loss to coastal communities since many commuters would be forced to move for lack of transportation to jobs in New Orleans.

Testimony during the hearing revealed that the bulk of commuter passengers lived between Pass Christian and New Orleans, with a much smaller number of commuters catching the train east of Pass Christian.

Actually, said the ICC decision, the public "makes little use" of the Pass-Christian-Ocean Springs trains and their operation "is not required by the public convenience and necessity." But, the commission said, patronage of the New Orleans-Pass Christian route, which serves 13 intermediate points, warrants continuance of service, perhaps at moderately increased fares.

Vorbusch said at the hearing that the commuters were willing to pay slightly higher fares in order to keep the trains operating.

Cutting off of the 23-mile Pass Christian to Ocean Springs extension and increase of fares might at least bring the operation to the break even point, the ICC observed.

The commission indicated that the order is in the nature of a trial, saying that another year of operation would give the public a chance to demonstrate, through regular patronage, that a continuance of service is warranted.

Board Votes $75,000 Bond Issue for Financing

Hancock County Board of Supervisors, acting in a 36-minute secret session Tuesday afternoon, accepted the lowest bid of $476,500 received in its second try for satisfactory prices for construction of the new 30-bed Hancock County Hospital. This figure does not include loose equipment.

In other action behind closed doors and announced to the public when the meeting was reopened, the board voted to float a $75,000 bond issue to be repaid with funds from the county hospital maintenance allocation of three mills annually.

Transfer of other county funds also is contemplated in the financing, the specific sources to be designated later.

This is necessitated by the fact that only $384,000 was available for the project.

Board members emphasized that the bond issue will not involve any added tax assessment. Hospital maintenance tax revenue usually amounts to about $30,000 a year, of which some $10,000 will be earmarked to amortize the bond issue.

An election on the bond will not be required unless 20 percent of the registered voters in the county protest the supervisors' action.

The successful bidder was Perrillet and Rieckey Construction Company of New Orleans and its price of $476,500 will be lowered by the deduction of $4,600 worth of alternates.

A tense group of nearly 70 spectators overflowed into the lobby outside the small boardroom as architect Wilfred Dawson read the 17 bids submitted in answer to the board's second advertisement, all but two of which were for individual phases of construction.

County Teachers Elect Oscar Breland as Head

Hancock County Teachers Association at a dinner meeting Monday at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club elected Oscar C. Breland, principal of Logtown School, as president of the coming year. Bernard McCormick, English instructor at North Central High School, was chosen vice president with Miss Cherrie Ann Green to continue as secretary. Elected to the executive council were Mrs. George H. Hall and Mrs. J. E. Erwin of the Bay St. Louis.

From Our Files By Gone Days

25 YEARS AGO
April 27, 1934—Miss Dorothy Tudary won the beauty contest sponsored by Bay-Waveland businesses. Miss Mary DiBenedetto was second with Miss Katherine Sauter third and Miss Kathryn Quintal fourth.

10 YEARS AGO
April 29, 1949—Harold Daniel Krankey Jr., was baptised Easter Sunday at Main Street Methodist Church with the Rev. H. Buffin Oliver, pastor, officiating. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krankey, stood as God parents.

The session got under way about 2 p.m. and after bids were tabulated, an executive session was called which began at 3:32 p.m. Supervisors remained closed in private with Foster Fowler, executive secretary of the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care, Charles O'Neill, architect and member of his staff, and Dawson, until 4:08 p.m.

Supervisors on March 30 had rejected as too high the first lot of bids for the hospital project. The lowest price at that time was $499,000, some $113,000 over funds available, and came from Pittman Construction Company of New Orleans.

Threatened with the loss of Hill-Burton Act funds allocated two years ago for the building, the board speeded readvertising without revising specifications on the job. Plans had been scheduled for completion in July, 1958, but were delayed and it was not until February that the state hospital group approved them.

While selecting low bids in the individual fields of construction would have lowered the overall price for the hospital to $463,558, supervisors took the position that placing the whole job in the hands of one firm would be worth the additional cost.

The combined bid that was rejected included the Pittman firm, general construction, $256,000; South Central Heating and Plumbing Company, mechanical work, $154,890, and Mack Electric Company, electrical, $59,868, and all alternate deductions.

Alternates and deductions approved with the Perrillet bid were changing from Grade A to B the structural tile, $600; setting aside fire lines and hydrants, $2,000; and removing structural facing tile for plaster walls and ceramic wainscoting, $2,000. The board did not take a $2,000 deduction for substituting concrete block for all structural tile; and $1,000 for removing tile on the exterior, excluding painting of the underside of the roof overhang and glass changes.

Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Jr. suggested some type of bond issue when it became apparent that no bid was lower than $463,500. "I'm willing to gamble my office for that hospital," he said.

Speaking to the other supervisors and spectators Hubbard added, "You people talk of growing; we'll never grow without a hospital."

Dawson said that if the bond issue were floated he still would accept as fee six per cent of the original estimate, $386,400.

"The original estimate obviously was not enough," he said, "so you can fix my salary according to it, regardless of the raise necessary. Although they aren't present, I'm speaking for engineers too," he added.

Hospital board treasurer T. T. Reboil Jr. said of the cutting of $10,000 annually from bond funds for payment of the bonds, "I am for it 100 per cent."

Grins and Frowns

Hooray! It looks as though Hancock County will at last get a modern, if small, hospital. The Board of Supervisors is to be commended for its action in finding and taking a course that would enable it to finance the construction of the hospital after the architect's estimate of cost proved inaccurate. The Echo is unable to commend them for going into an executive, or secret, session. As previously stated in this column it is a dangerous precedent, and this is the second time in one month that this procedure has been followed by the Board of Supervisors.

This editor has no reason to have other than high regard for the members of the Board of Supervisors, but continued use of secret meetings by public bodies can only have the result of making newspapers, and the public, suspicious. Perhaps in this case the board was justified in acting in secret and thereby withholding information from the public. We don't know, but we doubt it.

A Statesman, We Think

"I'm willing to gamble my office for that hospital. You people talk of growing; we'll never grow without a hospital." Mr. B. G. Hubbard, Jr., spoke those words. He spoke as a member of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County. This editor does not yet know Supervisor Hubbard well — even slightly — but he hopes he soon will. Without knowing what opposition Hubbard will have for re-election, the Echo wishes him well. Beat five could certainly do worse.

Another Black Eye

Intelligent people don't usually arm their enemies, so it must be assumed that those responsible for the apparent lynching of M. C. Parker are either stupid or NAACP sympathizers. They gave the South's enemies another hydrogen bomb to use against the South. In doing so they broke the law of Mississippi, not the edict of a Warren-led supreme court.

While Parker seems to have been guilty of a dastardly crime, he said he was innocent and he had yet to be tried. Presumably he might have been innocent. So far as those participating know, they may have murdered an innocent man. If they were what they aren't, decent people, their conscience would bother them the rest of their lives.

Thanks, Mr. Damborino

The Echo thanks its competitor, The Hancock County Eagle, and its publisher, Mr. John Damborino. We are able today to have a news story solely because of John Damborino's courtesy to a fellow publisher. Thanks.

Since April 8th the Echo has tried to get the names of those who received prizes as a result of donating blood to the local blood bank. Yesterday morning Mrs. Maurice Martin talked to the managing editor of this paper, gave her three names and, on finding out that the policy of this paper is that the owner and not Mrs. Martin runs it, would give no more on the grounds that she had something else to do. Miss Robin Gross of the Echo staff phoned her in the afternoon and was told that she was too busy but would let us know later. At 9:55 p.m., not having heard from her, the editor phoned Mrs. Martin, who was apparently in bed but not asleep, and was cut off brusquely. Thirty minutes later the editor talked over the phone to one who identified himself as Mr. James Normand, chairman of the blood bank, who would not release the information to this paper. He said he could not — he's chairman. In addition Normand spoke of the many organizations who backed the blood bank with the veiled threat that they would boycott this paper if it spoke out about the incident. We cannot believe this of the many fine people in Hancock County.

The final straw was the comment by Normand: "Hope you don't make our lawyer mad". The Echo doesn't know who his or "our" lawyer is. It does know that under the circumstances it would set forth the facts if its own lawyer was involved. On the request to Mr. Normand to see the minutes of his

Jacobi Named To Mound for Rockchaws

St. Stanislaus College senior Herman Jacobi, who pitched Sunday's tight losing 3-2 contest against Notre Dame of Biloxi, is slated to open in Friday's return bout there.

"The boys are improving and should do all right in the next two games," said Coach James Zimmerman.

They are scheduled to play Biloxi High Tuesday here. Jacobi allowed seven hits in last Friday's game. The two runs were made by E. J. Babin and Ramero Gereda. This was a far cry from Saturday's 20-1 losing tilt with McGill of Mobile and Thursday, April 23's equally sad 10-0 defeat by Gulfport.

Melertine pitched the Gulfport game for St. Stanislaus. The local boys failed to earn one hit. Jack Mashburn, who pitched the McGill game, made the single run and one other hit.

Nolan's Leader

I take this means and opportunity of offering for nomination in the Democratic Primaries to be held in August of this year, as candidate for the office of Sheriff of this County. Many of you, who are long-time residents of the County have known me all my life, but for the benefit of those who have not known me long, I offer the following personal information.

I was born forty-eight years ago in Hancock County, the son of the late Judge and Mrs. Alvin Ladner. I attended the public schools in this County, and graduated at Bay High School in 1931. I am married to the former Ethel Strahan of Pearl River, Mississippi, and we have three children. I have operated my own tax business in Bay Saint Louis continuously since 1932, and have, since January, 1956, served as Justice of the Peace in Beat Five, in which office my father served for many years prior to his death.

While I have lived in Bay Saint Louis all of my life, my contact with the residents of this County, outside of Bay Saint Louis and Beat Five, has been unlimited. Because, in addition to carrying on my own business in Bay Saint Louis since 1932, I began officiating as referee in grammar and high school basketball games locally and throughout the County, and later, throughout South Mississippi, continuing to do so for more than twenty years. Because of my officiating in these games, I feel sure that most of the students, their parents, their teachers, and the team supporters came to know me. During that time, I believe that I rightfully earned the reputation of fairness to all—prejudice toward none.

In reaching my decision to run for this important office, my primary consideration has been whether or not I can faithfully and competently serve you in the office of Sheriff. I know that I can.

I am not a member of any political faction or clique, nor am I pledged to any particular person or persons for any favors, political or otherwise. In serving as Sheriff, if I am elected, I will perform my duties faithfully and honestly, with fairness to each individual who has need for my official services, regardless of his or her financial or social position. I shall conduct a clean, honest and fair administration, and further pledge, if elected, the following:

1. That all books and records which the Sheriff is required by law to keep, will be kept in an efficient manner, and all reports and accountings will be made as provided by law.

2. That the office of the Sheriff will be open at all times during the hours provided by law for such, and at all other times when necessary for the proper transaction of the business of the County, or individuals involved in County affairs.

3. That the Sheriff or competent deputies will be available to you at all times, when their services are needed.

That there will be no "rackets" allowed, nor will racketeers be permitted to operate in the County.

In conclusion, being mindful of the oath of office which is required by law that a Sheriff takes when entering upon such discharge of his duties as such, I hereby pledge that, if elected Sheriff, I will faithfully support and obey the laws of the State, and that I will faithfully, fairly, and honestly discharge all the duties of the office of Sheriff of your County.

I solicit and will deeply appreciate your vote and your support.

Sincerely,
NOLAN S. LADNER
